

COUNCIL SAYS GRADE CROSSING AT PINE STREET

SULTAN PLACED ON GOOD BEHAVIOR

France Will Keep Eye on Mulai Hafid Until He Shows Ability

[By Telegram to The Age]
Paris, Aug. 26.—While no official information has been given out, it is understood that France and Spain will take no immediate steps to recognize Mulai Hafid, who is now recognized as the sultan throughout the empire of Morocco.

By his victory and his proclamation as sultan at Tangier Mulai Hafid is evidently master of the situation. However, to continue as sultan de facto, he must levy taxes; to levy taxes he must maintain an army with which to impress and hold the fickle tribesmen, and to maintain an army he must have money. Money is a paramount necessity; gold is the goal around which the entire Moroccan problem revolves. For gold Hafid must look to Europe; without it he can not hope to endure. It would be tactless and ruinous for the powers instantly to throw themselves at the feet of Mulai Hafid and hail him as the new ruler of Morocco. He must be shown that the powers are necessary to him and not that he is necessary to the powers.

When France and Spain agree that the time for action has arrived, the signatories to the Algeiras act will be invited again to study the situation, and Mulai Hafid probably will be recognized. Hafid must promise much—to subscribe to the pacification of the country, to protect Europeans and to maintain a friendly attitude toward the needed civilization of Morocco. But above all, he must for the moment be allowed to "cool off," which will give time for the situation to become more tranquil.

New Ruler Issues Statement.
London, Aug. 26.—The Tangier correspondent of the Times says that Mulai Hafid authorizes the statement that he will abide by the Algeiras act and will accept responsibility for the Moroccan foreign board's debts, but will demand investigation of the private debts of Abd-el-Aziz before agreeing to pay them.

Deposed Sultan is Active.
Paris, Aug. 26.—Dispatches received from General d'Amade, commander of the French forces in Morocco, state that the scattered troops of Abd-el-Aziz are beginning to reassemble at Settati, where Abd-el-Aziz has taken up his quarters. The sultan of record, it is still believed, is making preparations to proceed to the coast.

Railroad Will Probably Ask For an Injunction

Fourteenth And Fifteenth Streets May be Opened From Main to Chestnut Streets

After nearly ten years of skirmishing, the first gun was fired by the city council toward the securing of a grade crossing over the Pennsylvania railroad tracks at Pine street Tuesday evening when the council instructed City Solicitor Williams to file a petition in common pleas court at once asking the court to establish a grade crossing.

Councilman Ed M. Hanlon made the motion to authorize the solicitor to proceed and Dr. Temple seconded the motion. All the members voted aye. Councilman Caldwell was the only absentee. The probability that the railroad company will fight the case by immediately asking for an injunction was considered but the council decided to spend some money if necessary to carry on the war to the finish, owing to the urgent demand of the people who have to cross the tracks now by climbing between box cars or waiting for trains to pass. A grade crossing was deemed better than no crossing at all.

New Cross Streets.
Action was also taken looking to the opening of Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets from Chestnut to East Main. The council instructed the board of public service to negotiate with the property owners through which the street extension would pass. Dr. Temple made a motion that the service board be authorized to find out what amount of money would be asked to open up the two streets.

The street committee, to whom the matter of opening up Fifteenth street had been referred at the last meeting reported that Mrs. Parson had asked the city to pay her $600 for the strip of ground required and pay for moving her dwelling house which stands in the way. It was estimated that it would cost $200 to move the dwelling making the total cost of the improvement $800. The service board will endeavor to secure the best possible terms for opening up both Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets and report at the next council meeting.

Want to Enjoin The State Fair

[Associated Dailies Telegram]
COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 26.—What practically amounts to a suit to enjoin the holding of the state fair next week was filed in common pleas court today, by the Smith Chemical Co., of Columbus, with which the state department of agriculture has been having trouble with reference to Smith's fertilizer. An attempt is made to enjoin the fair officials from spending state funds for the fair. No action has been taken as yet.

ELOPED BEFORE DAWN TO STEUBENVILLE

An elopement with all its romantic highlights, was pulled off during the wee small hours Wednesday morning, when Miss Gladys Sees, 17, the attractive young lady who has been passing out ice cream sodas and bright smiles at his long's candy kitchen, and Elwood Kierker, 19, a talented artist employed at the lower plant of the Meek Co., boarded No. 3 day here at 2:30 and sped on to Steubenville. At least it is supposed they went to Steubenville. Miss Sees having confided this much to one of the other girls at the candy kitchen. From there it is thought the youthful couple will go to Wheeling and take a boat down the Ohio river to Kentucky.

Miss Sees worked at the candy kitchen as usual until about 11 o'clock Tuesday evening. Then she went to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Sees, on South Ninth street and they supposed that she had retired for the night. But when morning came she had flown. There was no parental opposition but Miss Sees feared objection on account of her age and decided not to take any chances. They will probably return home tonight.

Thinks His Wife is Feeding Him a Slow Poison

Driven insane by the belief that his wife is giving him slow poison and that his brother in law is compelling his wife to carry out the murder on the installment plan, Robert Schweitzer, 25, who lives three miles south of Isleta was brought to Coshocton Wednesday and taken before Judge Donley by his father, Thomas Schweitzer, and arrangements were made with Sheriff Browning to take the young man to the Massillon hospital Thursday.

The poor fellow is not violent but the hallucination that his brother-in-law wants to kill him in order to get his little child has sapped his mind away. His queer actions were first noticed last Thursday and he has been rapidly becoming worse. He sat in the court square Wednesday afternoon while his father went to get Sheriff Browning.

Got Cold Feet And Dropped Out

[Associated Dailies Telegram]
NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—"Got cold feet and quit when the market went against him," that is the way Wall street sizes up the action of the man who backed O. A. Brown & Co., in their attempt to create a flurry in Wall street. This man stands high in the financial world and when he withdrew his support, the company went to the wall; when the facts of this failure came to surface, stock gambling will receive the greatest blow of recent years. A statement from the firm is expected today.

Clows Ready to Get Busy

T. L. Montgomery of the Coshocton National bank received a letter Wednesday morning from W. E. Clow, the president of the Clow Co., in which he says that work will be begun on the company's plant in this city as soon as Mr. Aland returns from Germany. "Not a minute will be lost," said Mr. Clow which means that things will be doing shortly in the big addition south of town.

Sheriff in a New Role

Sheriff Browning does not belong to the bartenders union, but he sold a large quantity of liquor and other saloon stock Wednesday. He sold at auction the goods in George Hiser's bar on Hickory street. A large crowd was present. The purchases were not large. The stock was sold to satisfy an attachment.

Coshocton May Get Her Gas From Standard Oil Co.

Coshocton's gas may be supplied in the near future by the Standard Oil Co. A deal involving $10,000,000 is now on with this mammoth corporation and the Union Natural Gas Co., of Pittsburgh, the latter being a holding company, it is understood, for a number of West Virginia gas companies and from one of which the Coshocton Gas Co. purchases its supply here. The local gas company owns no gas wells but buys its supply direct from the Buckeye State Gas & Fuel Co., of which T. N. Barnsdall is the head.

Mr. Barnsdall and his associates control a number of different gas properties with large holdings in West Virginia. All the Barnsdall gas property is included in the pending deal of course under the name of the Union Natural Gas Co. The Coshocton Gas Co. and the city of Coshocton would not be affected directly should the deal go through as the former is protected by a contract and the latter by the franchise.

Details of the pending deal are as follows: [Associated Dailies Telegram]
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 26.—Six million dollars cash was the offer that was made this week by the Standard Oil Co. interests for the properties, franchises and business of the Union Natural Gas Co. of Pittsburgh, which is now controlled by T. N. Barnsdall and his associates. They declined the offer yesterday.

WITNESSES WEAKEN IN HORSE CASE

The trial of Chas. Saxton, charged with driving a horse to death, was commenced before Squire L. N. Staats at the city hall Wednesday morning, the courtroom at the Squire's office not being large enough to accommodate the crowd. W. S. Merrill represents Humane Officer Vensel, who filed the charges against Saxton, and J. C. Adams is attorney for the defense. An hour or more was taken up in securing a jury.

The jury was empaneled as follows: C. W. Young, John Rodocker, Samuel Beck, Allan Wier, John C. Bowers, James Lear, George Schoenberg, Jos. McVey, J. A. Honabarger, J. C. Stockum, H. C. Miller and Barney Young.

Some of the witnesses for the prosecution did not give as strong testimony against Saxton as was expected. Mrs. Mary Bagant, the owner of the horse, was the first witness. George Stiner, the strong-arm witness for the prosecution, was not called before noon. The witnesses subpoenaed for the plaintiff were: George Stiner, Henry Hahn, Mary Bagant, Adam Hahn, Winfield Moore, L. K. Beach, W. J. Balmer, S. I. Adams, M. A. Huston, Leander Bryant, Pearl Bryant, Sarah C. Moore and W. J. Adams. The witnesses for the defense are: Jas. Moore, Ben Moore, J. E. Foster, Tom Manning, Mary Saxton, Bridget Mahan, John Porteus, J. A. Bryant, Pearl Bryant and Luther Stotts.

Rain Causes Awful Loss

[Associated Dailies Telegram]
COLUMBIA, S. C., Aug. 26.—Rain continues today and all the streams are rising; unless it lets up it is feared Columbia will be isolated. The property loss is estimated at a million dollars. Many mills and bridges are destroyed. The rain extends into Georgia. Atlanta is also flooded. It is estimated there have been seven inches of rain fall in 24 hours.

Cheaper Meat in Sight

Chicago, Aug. 26.—Compeston that promises to mean a cut in meat prices is scheduled to make an appearance in the beef trade about Oct. 1. An independent concern has been incorporated under the name of the "Chicago Stock Yards and Transit company" as a rival of the Union Stock Yards and Transit company. It has a capital stock of $2,500,000, of which nearly half is to be spent for a packing house and other structures.

Will Examine His Sanity

[Associated Dailies Telegram]
GOSHEN, N. Y., Aug. 26.—Ferdinand Pinner, the artist who pleaded guilty to beating his wife formerly Julia Kuhnner, for whom he thrust off his first wife a year ago, was closely watched in jail last night for fear he would attempt to end his life. Pinner is completely unrepentant as he now realizes what his idea of guilty means. The penalty may be five years in prison or fine of $1,000. It is announced that his wife will not return to him; an examination as to his sanity will be made today.

acres of oil and gas territory in West Virginia and much of it is already developed. The gas is piped to towns in West Virginia and Ohio and in all about $5,000 people are being supplied by the corporation. The location of the gas properties and the pipe lines are such as to make it possible to extend them to Baltimore and Washington.

It is understood that the Standard interests had in view the extension mentioned and the reaching out for this new fuel gas trade. The present company had the same plan in view and in event of the failure of the deal the Union company will likely put this plan into effect. If the Standard decides to make concessions

NEWCOMERSTOWN GIRL SHIPPED WITH A TAG

COLUMBUS, Aug. 26.—Unaccompanied and with only a tag on her sleeve to warrant her delivery to Columbus, little Helen Ankerman, aged 7, an orphan, was placed on a Pennsylvania train at Newcomerstown Tuesday afternoon and was delivered to the station master at the Union station on her arrival. Her final destination was the Juvenile Detention home, where she was taken in a patrol wagon.

Helen lost her father and mother, and was placed in the hands of the juvenile authorities some time ago. Recently a Mr. Miller, who has a large farm in Newcomerstown, applied for the girl and took her to his home. Much to the surprise of the juvenile authorities, the girl was returned to the home, after she had been on the Miller farm a week.

On her arm was pinned a tag on which was written "Deliver to Juvenile home, Columbus." She carried a basket containing a lunch and her clothing.

It is the opinion of the authorities that Miller found the girl too small to perform the duties of a housekeeper or work on the farm, and finding

Aeronautic Carnival

Including Passenger Airship Flights, Daily Balloon Races and Hourly Captive Balloon Ascensions, a Leading Feature at the Coming Ohio State Fair.

A. ROY KNABENSHUE

America's Intrepid Navigator of the Air, to be seen in Daily Exhibitions with the Latest Scientific Invention—A Passenger Air Ship—Interest Intense and Record Breaking Crowds Assured.

An aerial carnival, under the direct supervision of A. Roy Knabenshue, America's foremost navigator of the air, is to be one of the novel features of the coming Ohio State Fair, to be held in Columbus, August 31, September 1, 2, 3, and 4, next. The general interest now displayed in aerial navigation has induced the managers to contract with Mr. Knabenshue for the promoting and what gives promise of being the most extensive and interesting exhibits of aerial contrivances ever presented to the American public.

The leading features of the carnival will be daily flights of the latest invention in the aeronautic world—Knabenshue's passenger airship. This machine is capable of making ascensions during the most turbulent weather, and its inventor has also perfected the mechanism of the craft that each day it will gracefully sail over the fair grounds, carrying in addition to its engineer and operator, two passengers from the assembled crowd. Another feature no less interesting will be a daily contest between mammoth racing balloons, for which valuable cash and liberal cash prizes will be awarded. This will afford opportunity for those so inclined to engage in the sport, while for the more timid visitors Captain Knabenshue will personally operate a captive balloon, making ascensions hourly during the entire week of the exhibition.

With the aerial carnival as here outlined, the superb harness races daily and the excellent line of free features provided, the amusement program of the coming Ohio State Fair will be the most extensive and interesting in its history.

Not alone, however, in amusement features will the exposition excel. All others, as the manager's report an unprecedented demand for space in each of its seventeen distinct departments, assuring an exhibition of the arts and industries of such magnitude and merit as will sustain Ohio's proud reputation as the leading Exposition of its kind in the Union.

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets—coaxes blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effect is charming, pleasantly delightful, gently though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure. If it's painful periods with women, same cause. If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is certain, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure.

Brush your finger and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain always is. It's simply common sense.

We sell at 25 cents, and cheerfully recommend

Sophy of Kravonia

By ANTHONY HOPE. Author of "THE PRISONER OF ZENDA"

But Marie had gradually risen to a high, nervous tension. She was no puritan. Puritans were not common in Kravonia nor had Paris grafted such a slip on to her nature. Had she thought as the men in the palace thought when they smiled, had she thought that and no more, it is scarcely likely that she would have thus disturbed herself. After all, such cases are generally treated as in some sense outside the common rules. Exceptional allowances are, in fact, whether properly or not, made for exceptional situations. Another feeling was in her mind, an obsession which had come almost wholly to possess her. The fatal foreboding which had attacked her from the first had now full dominion over her. Its rule was riveted more closely on her spirit day by day as day by day the prince and Sophy drew closer together. Even that Sophy had once saved his life could now no longer shake Marie's doleful prepossession. Unusual and unlooked for things take color from the mind of the spectator. The strange train of events which had brought Sophy to Praslak borrowed ominous shadows from a nervous, apprehensive temperament.

No such gloom brooded over Sophy. She gave herself up to the hour—the past forgotten, the future never thought of. It was the great time of her life. Her feelings, while not less spontaneous and fresh, were more mature and more fully satisfied than when Casimir de Savres poured his love at her feet. A cry of happiness almost lyrical runs through her scanty record of these days. There was little leisure for diary or letters.

Winter was melting into spring, snow dwelled only on the hilltops, Lake Titli was unbound and sparkled in the sun. The days grew longer, yet were far too short. To ride with him to Volseni, to hear the cheers, to see the love they bore him, to watch him at work, to seem to share the labor and the love—then to shake off the kindly clinging friends and take to a mountain path or wander, the reins on the horses' necks, by the margin of the lake and come home through the late dusk, talking often, silent often, always together in thought as in bodily presence—was not this enough? "If I had to die in a month I should owe life a tremendous debt already." That is her own summing up. It is pleasant to remember.

It would be enough to say—love; enough with a nature ardent as hers. Yet with love much else conspired. There was the thought of what she had done, of the things to which she was a party. There was the sense of power, the satisfaction of ambition, a promise of more things. There was the applause of Volseni as well as the devotion of the prince. There was, too, it persisted all through her life—the funny, half childish and, to a severe eye, unchildlike pleasure in the feeling that these were fine things for Sophy Grouch of Morpington, in Essex! "Fancy me!" is the indefensibly primitive form in which this delight shows in one of the few letters bearing date from the castle of Praslak.

Yet it is possible to find this simple, gracious surprise at fortune's fancies worthy of love. Her own courage, her own catching at fortune's forelock, seemed to have been always unconscious and instinctive. These she never hints at nor even begins to analyze. Of her love for the prince she speaks once or twice and once in reference to what she had felt for Casimir. "I loved him most when he left me and when he died," she writes. "I love him not less now because I love monseigneur, but I can love monseigneur more for having loved Casimir. God bade the dear dead die, but he bade me live, and death helped to teach me how to do it." Again she reflects, "How wonderfully everything is worth while—even sorrows!" Following which reflection in the very next line—she is writing to Julia Roberts—comes the naive outburst: "I look just splendid in my sheepskin tunic, and he's given me the sweetest toy of a revolver. That's in case they ever charge and try and cut us up behind our guns!" She is laughing at herself, but the laugh is charged with an infectious enjoyment. So she lived, loved and laughed through those unequalled days, trying to soothe Marie Zerkovitch, bunting Max von Hohlbrandt, giving her masculine mind and her feminine soul wholly to her prince. "She was like a singularly able and energetic sunbeam," Max says quaintly, himself obviously not untouched by her attractions.

The prince's mind was simple. He was quite sincere about his guns. He had no wish to go on his travels until they had arrived and he could deliver them into the safe custody of his trained and trusty Volsenians and of Lukovitch, their captain. Less than that was not safety with Stenovics in office and Colonel Stafnitz on duty at the capital. But Marie Zerkovitch was right, too, even though overexacting, as Max had told her. The letter to the king held but half the truth, and that half not the more significant. He could not go from Sophy's side to seek a wife. The desire of his heart and the delight of his eyes—she was here in Praslak.

Her charm was not only for his heart and eyes, her fascination not solely for his passion. On his intellect also she laid her powerful hold, opening the narrow confines of his mind to broader views and softening the rigor of his ideals. He had seen himself only as the stern master, the just chastiser of a turbulent capital and an unruly soldiery. But was there not a higher aim? Might he not be loved in the plains as on the hills, at Slavna as at Volseni?

By himself he could not achieve that. His pride—may, his obstinacy—forbade the first step. But what his sensitive dignity rejected for himself he could see his sunny graciousness accomplish without loss of self respect, naturally, all spontaneously. He was a soldier. Hers were the powers of peace, of that instinctive statesmanship of the emotions by which hearts are won and kingdoms knit together by a tie stronger than the sword. Because in his mind's eye he saw her doing this, the idea at which the men in the palace had smiled and which even Marie Zerkovitch would have accepted as the lesser evil, never came into his head. In the future years she was to be openly at his side, doing these things for him and for the land of his love and labor. Would she not be a better partner than some stranger, to whom he must go cap in hand, to whom his country would be a place of exile and his countrymen seem half barbarians, whose life with him would be one long tale of forced and unwilling concession? A pride more subtle than his father's rose in revolt.

If he could make the king see that! There stood the difficulty. Right in the way of his darling hope was the one thing on which the king insisted. The pride of family—the great alliance—the single point whereon the easy king was an obstacle so formidable! Yet had he despised he would have been no such lover as he was.

His answer had gone to the king. There was no news of its reception yet, but on the next day in the evening great tidings came from Slavna, forwarded by Zerkovitch, who was in charge of the prince's affairs there. The prince burst eagerly into the dining room in the tower of Praslak, where Sophy sat alone. He seemed full of triumphant excitement, almost boyish in his glee. It is at such moments that hesitations are forgotten and the last reserves broken down.

"My guns!" he cried. "My guns! They've started on their way. They're due in Slavna in a month!" "In a month?" she murmured softly. "Ah, that!" "Our company will be ready too. We'll march down to Slavna and meet the guns!" He laughed. "Oh, I'll be very pleasant to Slavna now, just as you advise me. We'll meet them with smiles on our faces." He came up to her and laid his hand on hers. "You've done this for me," he said, smiling still, yet growing more grave.

"It'll be the end of this wonderful time, of this our time together!" "Of our time at Praslak—not of our time together. What! Won't Lieutenant Baroness Dobrava march with her battery?"

She smiled doubtfully, gently shaking her head. "Perhaps. But when we get to Slavna—Oh, I'm sorry that this time's so nearly done!"

He looked at her gravely for a few moments, making perhaps a last quick calculation—undergoing perhaps a last short struggle. But the red star glowed against the pallor of her face. Her eyes were gleaming beacons.

"Neither the guns nor the men nor Slavna—no, nor the crown, when that time comes—without you!" he said.

She rose slowly, tremblingly, from her chair and stretched out her hands in an instinctive protest, "Monseigneur!" Then she clasped her hands, setting her eyes on his and whispering again, yet louder, "Monseigneur!"

"Marie Zerkovitch says fate sent you to Kravonia. I think she's right. Fate did—my fate. I think it's fated that we are to be together to the end, Sophy."

A step creaked on the old stairs. Marie Zerkovitch was coming down from her room on the floor above. The door of the dining room stood open, but neither of them heard the step. They were engrossed, and the sound passed unheeded.

Standing there, with hands still clasped and eyes still bound to his, she spoke again, and Marie Zerkovitch stood by the door and heard the quick yet clear words, herself fascinated, unable to move or speak.

"I've meant nothing of thought nothing of it. I s done nothing toward it. It h came to me." Her tone took touch of entreaty, whether it were him or to some unseen power which ruled her life and to which she might have to render an account.

"Yet it is welcome!" he asked quietly. She was long in answering. He waited without impatience, in a confidence devoid of doubt. She seemed to seek for the whole truth and to give it to him in gravest, fullest words.

"It is life, monseigneur," she said. "I can't see life without it now."

He held out his hands, and very slowly she laid hers in them.

"It is enough, and nothing else could have been enough from you to me and from me to you," he said gently. "Unless we live it together I think it can be no life for us now."

The chain which had held Marie Zerkovitch motionless suddenly snapped. She rushed into the room and, forgetful of everything in her agitation, seized the prince by the arm.

"What do you mean?" she cried. "What do you mean? Are you mad?"

He was very fond of little Marie. He looked down at her now, with an affectionate, indulgent smile.

HOW IS YOUR STOMACH?

Easy Way to Strengthen It and Get Well

A good digestive system, one that acts so that you do not know that you have a stomach, is God's birthright to every man—to every woman. If digestion is weak, if food turns into gas, if you suffer after eating, if you are sleepless, nervous and out of sorts—then the stomach is diseased and prompt action should be taken.

W. A. Eunis, a well known builder in Syracuse, tells an easy way to strengthen the stomach and get well when he writes: "Mi-na Stomach Tablets have done more for me in one week than all the doctors the two years I was under their care. Thanks to Mi-na, I can work once more, the first time in over a year."

It is an easy thing to strengthen the stomach and cure indigestion by using Mi-na. Get a 50-cent box from C. E. Anderson with his personal guarantee to refund the money unless the remedy does all that is claimed for it.

A Boy's Holidays.

The ardent controversy which has been waging in England and America concerning the best way to dispose of school boys in the long summer vacation has prompted the Grand Trunk Railway System to issue a special publication giving suggestions and practical hints to parents as to what to do with the public and preparatory school boy during the months of July and August. The vacation camp is one of the solutions and the publication entitled, "What shall a Boy do with his Vacation?" thoroughly covers the ground and solves the problem of the best way for a schoolboy to enjoy his holidays.

"The Blood is The Life."

Science has never gone beyond the above simple statement of scripture. But it has illuminated that statement and given it a meaning ever broadening with the increasing breadth of knowledge. When the blood is "bad" or impure it is not alone the body which suffers through disease. The brain is also clouded, the mind and judgement are affected, and many an evil deed or impure thought may be directly traced to the impurity of the blood. Foul impure blood can be made pure by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It purifies and purifies the blood thereby curing, pimples, blotches, eruptions and other cutaneous affections, as eczema, tetter, or salt-rheum, hives and other manifestations of impure blood.

In the cure of scrofulous swellings, enlarged glands, open eating ulcers, or old sores, the "Golden Medical Discovery" has performed the most marvelous cures. In cases of old sores, or open eating ulcers, it is well to apply to the open sores Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve, which possesses wonderful healing potency when used as an application to the sores in conjunction with the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" as a blood cleansing constitutional treatment. If your druggist don't happen to have the "All-Healing Salve" in stock, you can easily procure it by enclosing fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, 663 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post. Most druggists keep it as well as the "Golden Medical Discovery."

You can't afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery," which is a medicine of known composition, having a complete list of ingredients in plain English on its bottle-wrapper, the same being attested as correct under oath. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

S.S.S. FOR BAD BLOOD

When bad blood is caused from an infection of the circulation by the virus of "Stagnant Blood Poison," it usually shows in the form of ulcerated mouth and throat, copper-colored spots on the body, swollen glands in the groin, falling hair, sores and ulcers, etc. These general symptoms, affecting all parts of the body, show how deeply poisoned the blood becomes, and emphasize the dangerous character of the trouble. If allowed to remain in the system the disease will finally wreck the health and break down the strongest constitution. No medicine can cure Contagious Blood Poison which does not rid the circulation of every particle of the virus. S. S. S. is the one real and certain cure; it goes down to the very bottom of the trouble, and by removing every trace of the poison, and adding rich, healthful qualities to the blood, forever cures this powerful disorder. S. S. S. is the most reliable of all blood purifiers, and its concentrated ingredients of healthful vegetable extracts and juices especially adapt it to curing this insidious trouble. Write for our home treatment book, which is a valuable aid in the treatment of the different stages of the disease, and ask for any medical advice you wish. No charge for either.

STYLE, COMFORT AND COMMON SENSE.

From Paris, where dwell the ears of style, has come the mandate that the "merry widow" hat must go. To the cobwebbed attic or yawning ash barrel must be consigned the monstrosity that has supplied, during its passage through the realm of fashion, innumerable inspirations for the paragrappers and the tellers of funny stories. The quicker the order of annihilation is enforced the better. Never has there been a more senseless and ridiculous article of human apparel—not, at least, since the passing of the hoopskirt and the "bustle." The "sheath gown," unhandsome as well as uncomfortable and immodest, never "took" in America, but the awful hat did. One feels like thanking the Parisian "arbiters of fashion" for condemning it so soon to oblivion.

Which brings to mind the fact that there is, usually, a good deal of common sense in the styles that last. French heels must be mentioned as a noticeable exception, but even these have become passe. Such ridiculous follies as the "sheath gown" do almost as soon as they are born. Women, and men too, like to look well, but they also like to be comfortable. When they find a way to sacrifice neither comfort nor appearance they are likely to make a "style" of it. This is more distinctly noticeable in children's garb. Nowadays the most fashionably dressed little girl or boy, who goes about in summer with bare legs, with hair cropped with pretty, but cool and "easy-to-wear" frocks, is the most comfortable. The child with fancy shoes, stiffly starched dress, long and beribboned hair, is neither in comfort or in "style."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

THE PART OF THE RAILROADS
It is quite interesting to reflect that this year the railroad companies are not falling over themselves to show favors to the Republican party by giving reduced rates to big campaign meetings.

This is illustrated by the difficulty that is being had in getting a satisfactory rate to Youngstown. It is the best argument in the world that the Republican party hasn't given the big corporations any favors, and that the corporations in return are not extending any favors. It is proof that the Republican administration did regulate the railroads, and that the holding and owning companies don't feel like helping any to bring about further regulation, or at least to put the party in a position to enact still more stringent laws if it should see fit.—Akron Beacon Journal.

HOPKINS AND TAFT DISCUSS THE CAMPAIGN

[By Telegraph to The Age]
Hot Springs, Va., Aug. 26.—Optimistic political information was brought to Judge Taft from several sources, the most roseate view coming from Senator Albert J. Hopkins of Illinois, who was a caller during the day.

Senator Hopkins, who is chairman of a subcommittee of the tariff commission having to do with the fixing of schedules on articles of import which come in competition with American manufacture, said he should call his committee into action in the near future. The tariff, he believed, would develop into the chief issue of the campaign. It was also his opinion that the revision which was to be prepared for this summer and enacted at a special session would result in the reduction of many schedules and the adoption of a maximum and minimum tariff, which would include in the latter class a sufficient number of articles to make this method of dealing with foreign nations much more effective than is the case under the present Dingley tariff. Mr. Hopkins believes the Republican national and state tickets will be successful in Illinois to the extent of 100,000 majority, although he concedes that Mr. Gompers may be effective in turning some labor votes to Mr. Bryan.

"But," added Mr. Hopkins, "my opinion is that Bryan's record as a free-trader will more than offset in loss the votes he will get from Gompers. Bryan's public career is limited to his four years' membership in the house of representatives, where he was a member of the ways and means committee which repealed the McKinley tariff law and substituted the Wilson-Gorman free-trade measure, which paralyzed the industries of the country, destroyed the market for all farm products and pauperized labor. At the end of this period, Mr. Gompers said in his annual report to the Federation of Labor that it was the darkest period organized labor had known for generations."

While the announcement is not definitely made, Judge Taft gave it as his belief that Attorney General Wade H. Ellis of Ohio will accept the position tendered him of assistant to Attorney General Bonaparte, to succeed Milton D. Purdy, who has been promoted to a federal judgeship in Minnesota. This opinion was expressed after a conference between Mr. Ellis and Mr. Taft here. Mr. Ellis preferred not to make a statement at this time. He came here after a conference with Attorney General Bonaparte at Lenox, Mass., and said that he had entirely recovered his health. He was offered the position shortly after the Chicago convention, and it was stated at the time that his decision in the matter would rest largely on the condition of his health.

MACK PLEASED WITH OUTLOOK

[By Telegraph to The Age]
Cincinnati, O., Aug. 26.—Chairman Mack of the Democratic national committee passed through here en route to Washington, D. C., from Indianapolis, where he presided at the Kern notification ceremonies. Mr. Mack telegraphed the national committee members in West Virginia, Delaware and Maryland to meet him in Washington for a conference, at which political conditions in West Virginia, Maryland and Delaware will be considered and a plan of campaign in those states outlined. At his conference the dates of Mr. Bryan's speaking trip through those states will be determined and announced.

"The Kern notification meeting," said Mr. Mack on his arrival here, "was a remarkable demonstration and one indicative of the strong tide of Democratic feeling in this campaign. I am convinced that Indiana, going Democratic from the reports I received in Indianapolis." Mr. Mack stated that the national committee expected to make a hard fight to carry Ohio this fall.

The Man Who Retreats Before His Defeat!

By Herbert Kaufman.

Advertising isn't magic. There is no element of the black art about it. In its best and highest form it is plain talk, sane talk—selling talk. Its results are in proportion to the merit of the subject advertised and the ability with which the advertising is done.

There are two great enemies to advertising profit, and both of them are caused by ignorance of the real functions and workings of publicity.

The one is to advertise promises which will not be fulfilled, because all that advertising can do when it accomplishes most, is to influence the reader of your copy to investigate your claims.

If you promise the earth and deliver the moon advertising will not pay you.

If you draw men and women to your store on pretense and fail to make good, advertising will have harmed you because it has only drawn attention to the fact that you are to be avoided.

It is as unjust to charge advertising with failure under these conditions as it would be for your neighbor to rob a bank and find yourself indicted for his misdeed. In brief, advertised dishonesty is even more profitless than unexploited deception.

The other great error in advertising is to expect more out of advertising than there is in it.

Advertising is seed which a merchant plants in the confidence of the community. He must allow time for it to grow. Every successful advertiser has to be patient. The time that it takes to arrive at results rests entirely with the ability and determination you display in the effort. But you cannot turn back when you have traveled half way and declare that the path is wrong.

You can't advertise for a week and because your store isn't crowded say it hasn't paid you. It takes a certain period to attract the attention of readers. Everybody doesn't see what you print the first time it appears. More will notice your copy the second day, a great many more at the end of a month.

You cannot expect to win the confidence of the community to the same degree that other men have obtained it without taking pretty much the same length of time that they did. But you can cut short the period between your introduction to your reader and his introduction to your counters by spending more effort in preparing your copy and displaying a greater amount of convincingness.

You mustn't act like the little girl who planted a garden and came out the next day expecting to find it in full bloom. Her father had to explain to her that plants require roots and that, although she could not see what was going on, the seeds were doing their most important work just before the flowers showed above ground.

So advertising is doing its most important work before the big results eventuate, and to abandon the money which has been invested just before results arrive is not only foolish but childish. It would be just as logical for a farmer to abandon his fields because he could not harvest his corn a week after he planted it.

Advertising does not require faith—merely common sense. If it is begun in doubt and deserted before normal results can be reasonably looked for, the fault does not lie with the newspaper or with publicity—it rests entirely upon the head of the coward who retreated before he was defeated.

HER FEET WERE SORE AND CRACKED

Soles Seemed as Though Covered with Knife Cuts—Could Not Bear Weight of Feet Even on Pillow—Was Long Unable to Walk—Many Remedies Failed—Now Cured.

WILL PRAISE CUTICURA AS LONG AS SHE LIVES

"Some four years ago I had the misfortune to have my feet get sore. The doctors could not tell me what it was. I used everything I could hear or think of but all to no avail. The feet were all cracked across the bottom as if you had taken a knife and cut them every whichway. They would peel up, and, oh, my! how they did hurt when I would try to walk—which I was not able to do for a long time. One day one of our neighbors came to our house and asked what was the matter. I showed him my feet and he said he had some Cuticura Ointment which would heal them up. There was only enough to apply once, but I found it helped me so much that I sent for a set of Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Pills, costing one dollar, and to my great joy, my feet were cured and have never troubled me since. I shall praise Cuticura as long as I live for the great help it has been. Mrs. Margaret Primmer, Platts, Mo., June 30 and July 21, 1907."

COACH IS ROBBED

One Highwayman Takes $1,500 and Makes Good His Escape.

Helena, Mont., Aug. 26.—A single highwayman secured $1,500 by holding up a stage and relieving the passengers of their valuables, just across the Carbon county line, between Cody and Meeteetse, Wyo.

Several posses have already been organized to take up the bandit's trail, but because of the rough nature of the country little hope is entertained that he will be captured. It is barely possible that the man who did this job was the same who held up the 16 coaches in Yellowstone park, but this is doubted. The same tactics, however, were followed, the passengers and driver being compelled at the muzzle of a rifle to deposit their valuables at a point near the road, and they were afterwards gathered up by the desperado. The bandit is described as a man of medium size and attired in a typical cowboy outfit.

Brain and Body Need Whole Wheat

Among all foods, wheat is the undisputed king. For any purpose—health or strength—nothing can take its place.

But the whole wheat must be made wholly digestible, else you lose half of its value. That is the reason for Mapl-Flake.

In wheat—when it all digests—you get all the food elements that anyone needs.

If you work with muscle, here are the proteins needed. If you work with brain, here are the phosphates required.

If you are weak, here is the utmost in nourishment. If you are ill, here is the best of medicines.

Mapl-Flake is the ideal food prepared in the ideal way. There is nothing else to compare with it.

No need of different foods to meet different conditions. Whole wheat supplies every need.

Not the common whole wheat—out wheat that but half digests.

But wheat prepared by our process—requiring 96 hours.

Wheat cooked for six hours—then cured for days—then flaked as thin as paper.

All that is essential. In the flake form alone can the fierce heat of an oven be made to attack every atom.

In flakes alone are the particles so separated that the digestive juices can get to them.

In Mapl-Flake alone you utilize all that lies in wheat.

Mapl-Flake

The Food That's All Food

Then we cook our wheat in pure maple syrup, to get that delicious flavor. The most enticing flavor a cereal ever had.

So the food that is best for you is the food that all people like best.

You don't know what you are missing until you have tried it. You don't know what a real cereal means. You don't know how good it can be.

Please find out to-day. Compare it with other foods. Judge for yourself which is best and best for you.

One package will tell you more than all the arguments we can ever print. Please order it now.

Ezra Meeker Completes Tour From Coast to Coast

Ezra Meeker, "the patriarch of the Oregon trail," has completed his journey from Oregon to Washington in the interest of national highways and especially the opening of the old Oregon trail from Puget Sound to the Missouri river valley. Meeker passed through Coshocton eastward with his private schooner and ox team the early part of last summer. The following dispatch from Seattle tells of the trip and its completion.

Seattle August 25.—Ezra Meeker, whose hope in life is to have the old Oregon trail from Puget Sound to the Missouri river reestablished, and who, to raise public interest in it, journeyed from Puget Sound to Washington, D. C., returning almost in the same way, has almost completed his round trip. On arriving here he was giving the privilege of delivering addresses in various parts of the city and selling his literature of the trail.

The "patriarch of the trail" announced as soon as he halted his schooner in front of the city hall that he felt better on his return after his two years' travel overland than he did when he started, despite the fact that he is now 75 years old.

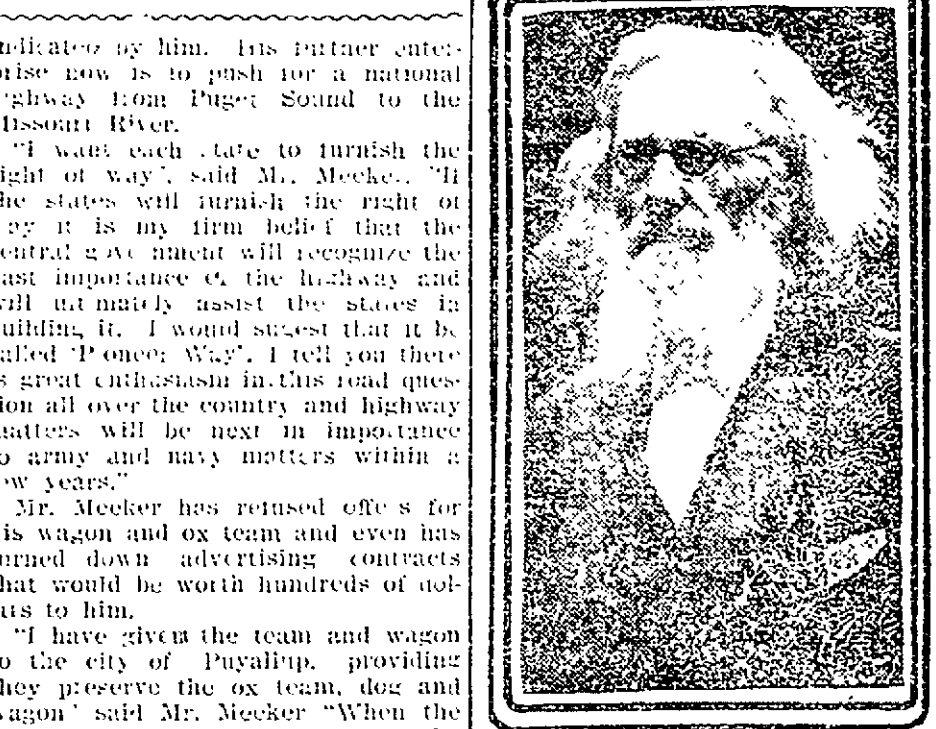

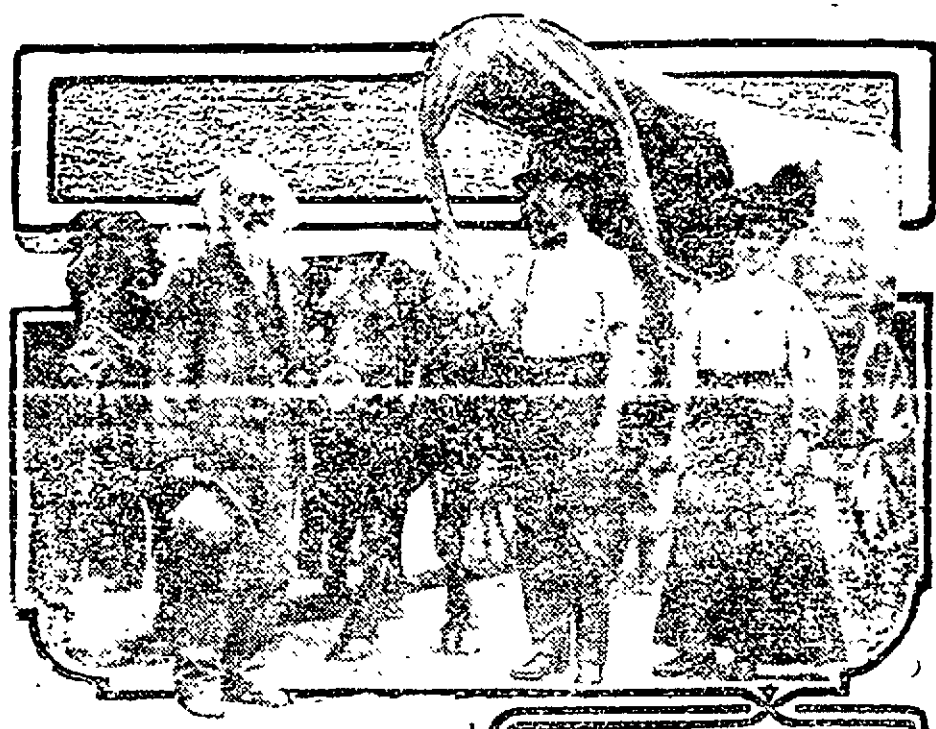

Mr. Meeker started out to mark the Oregon trail, which he traveled in 1852 with an ox team, coming to the coast of the Pacific northwest. He was 21 months traveling from Seattle to Washington. On his trip he passed through St. Louis, Philadelphia, Cincinnati and other large cities. After leaving Washington he went to New York, where the board of aldermen passed an ordinance allowing him to use the streets for the purpose of lecturing and selling literature.

One ox died on the way east and he bought one in the stock yards at Omaha. Dave the other ox made the entire trip from the Pacific to the Atlantic and back.

Traveled Part of Way by Rail.
When Mr. Meeker returned to Seattle last February he left his team in winter quarters at Pittsburg. On returning he had the oxen and wagon shipped to St. Louis, and from there he started across the country again. He traveled about 500 miles on the return trip in his wagon. The wagon and his ox team were shipped from St. Joseph, Mo., to Portland, and driven by Mr. Meeker from Portland to this city. He was accompanied on the return trip by W. B. Mardon and Mrs. Mardon, who were married in New York, and who are just finishing their honeymoon trip in this odd way of traveling.

Mr. Meeker succeeded in getting an appropriation through congress for the making of the Oregon trail as

EARLE AND HIS AFFINITY PART

[By Telegraph to The Age]
Middletown, N. Y., Aug. 26.—That he assaulted his wife 12 days after the birth of their child is the charge upon which Artist Ferdinand P. Earle of affinity fame was arrested at his home, near Monroe.

The complaining witness is Mrs. Inez Barry, an aunt of Mrs. Earle. Earle pleaded guilty to the charge and was held to await the action of the grand jury, which meets in October, the magistrate before whom he appeared having no jurisdiction to dispose of the case. Preferring to be locked up rather than give bail, Earle was conveyed to the city jail at Goshen. At the jail Earle told the keepers that he was very comfortable, but declared he was not at home to newspaper men. In court Earle appeared to be very much affected, tears streaming down his cheeks during the proceedings. Mrs. Earle, accompanied by her baby and a nurse, hurried away in an automobile toward Central Valley, where she will remain with friends for the present. Albert and Charles Kuttner, brothers of Mrs. Earle, were near at hand when Earle was arrested.

Cures baby's croup, Willie's daily cat's and houses, mama's sore throat, grandma's lameness—Dr. Thomas' Eucaly Oil—the great household remedy.

A Laxative that is as Harmless as Food

If you ate plenty of fruit, coarse food and green vegetables, the bowels would never need help.

But when you eat fine food, and rich food, you must supply the laxative in some other way.

Do it in Nature's way.

Don't employ salts or pill cathartics, for they violate Nature. They irritate and injure the stomach and bowels. Nearly all dyspepsia—all constipation is caused by the use of harsh physic.

Cascarets—a vegetable laxative—have precisely the same effect as a laxative food.

You know they don't harm you because they don't gripe.

They do for the bowels just what right living would do. And they do it as gently and naturally.

You can take them any hour of the day. And that is the proper method. Carry them with you. Take one just as soon as you need it.

That is the way to keep well at all times, without the ill effects of a physic.

Cascarets are candy tablets. They are sold by all druggists, but never in bulk. Be sure to get the genuine, with CCC on every tablet. The box is marked like this:

Cascarets
THEY WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP

The vest-pocket box is 10 cents. The month-treatment box 50 cents. 12,000,000 boxes sold annually.

Delicious refreshments were served in the course of the evening.

Miss Meade is visiting at Wm. Meyer's.

Weneta Laughlin, Miss Hazel Bowser, Mr. Russell Kisser and Miss Besse Laughlin spent Sunday evening on Dutch Run.

Excitement Spreading

MANY PEOPLE GOING TO THE ANDERSON DRUG STORE.

While it was known by a few people of Coshocton that the remedy Root Juice has created considerable excitement throughout the state by making scores of remarkable cures during the past few months, it was not supposed so many people from out of town were interested, but many from the country are helping to swell the crowds that are calling at the drug store to learn of the remarkable discovery. A traveling man in the presence of a number of home people said: "I wouldn't take this whole town for what Root Juice did for me. I suffered with my stomach and kidneys for years. I tried everything that I could put the least confidence in, but continued to grow worse. At times I felt like I had rocks in the pit of my stomach. Often gas would form in my stomach and bowels and press up against my heart so that it would feel like it would stop beating. Frequently I would get deathly sick and throw up my food. Oftentimes there was a raw burning sensation in the pit of my stomach and I was never free from pain in my back and limbs. The doctors said the pain in the limbs was rheumatic. While at Lafayette I heard so much of Root Juice that I decided to try it. I bought three bottles and by the time it was used I had a good appetite and could digest fat pork. I do not believe any one enjoys better health than I now enjoy." The Root Juice people have hundreds of testimonials of those who have been cured by the remedy. It is sold for one dollar a bottle, or three bottles for two dollars and a half. The great remedy is now being demonstrated at Anderson's drug store.

Are You Sick?

Much sickness is due to a weak nervous system. Yours may be. If it is, you cannot get well until you restore nerve strength. Your nervous system is nature's power house; the organs of your body get their power from it. If the power is not there, the action of the organs is weak, and disease (sickness) follows. Dr. Miles' Nervine cures the sick because it soothes the irritated and tired nerves and gives the system a chance to recuperate. Try it, and see if you do not quickly feel its beneficial effect.

"I was given up to die by a leading doctor. Got one of Dr. Miles' Nervine and found that Dr. Miles' Nervine fit my case. From the very first dose I took I got better. I am better now than I have been for years, and do all my own work on the farm. That's what Dr. Miles' Nervine has done for me, and I am glad to recommend it to others."

JOHN JAMES, Riverton, Neb.

Spite Fences on Brower Avenue

Spite fences are becoming the fad on Brower avenue and as a result of a row one family is completely penned in by high board walls on each side of their home. The climax was reached Tuesday night when one of the participants fainted.

It seems that the Duhamel family who are the parties compelled to look straight ahead, and Mrs. Kelsey, who lives next door north have been quarrelling for some and the first climax came when the Duhamels erected an eight foot board wall extending from the back of the walk to the very edge of the sidewalk between the two houses so that the Kelsey family cannot see down the street at all. Of course the Duhamels could not see up street either. At this point Alex Alberts, who is Mrs. Kelsey's father, took a hand in the game and built a very irregular and high fence on the lot south of Duhamels, which he owns, thus completely penning in the Duhamel house and shutting off their view up street and down. Mrs. Duhamel went about her work singing "Oh, Happy Day" while he was constructing the fence and this is said to have stirred him up to a high pitch of rage.

When Mrs. Duhamel's son came home to find his home fortified by board fences his wrath was greatly aroused and he went immediately to Alberts who were at supper and demanded that the fence below be removed and that if it was not taken away at once, he would tear it down himself. These words created anger in the breast of Mr. Albert who was, it is said, going to "clean up on Duhamel" without further parley. Mrs. Albert is said to have put a stop to this scuffling in the house and the men went outside where hot words were shot back and forth and more than once the affair came near to a personal encounter. However, the curtain was dropped on this act when Mrs. Kelsey appeared on the porch, and she having been formerly sick and now stirred up by the affair on the street, fainted away. A doctor was called and gave her medical attention and the game of "bull in the pen" was called off for the time being. Later developments are looked for.

FUNERAL OF MRS. STANTON

A large number of sorrowing friends attended the funeral services of Mrs. Lillian Duffy Stanton, which were held Wednesday morning at Sacred Heart church in the same church in which she was made a bride a little over a year ago. The Rev. Fr. Synan who performed the funeral mass July 17, 1907, read the mass for the burial of the dead Wednesday morning, speaking beautiful words of comfort to the sorrowing family, and the same choir which sang on that happy wedding day last summer, poured forth the beautiful music incident to the mass Wednesday morning. The Misses Veronica and Delsie Hanley sang the offertory most beautifully and Mr. Walter Thompson, who assisted the regular choir, gave "Lead Kindly Light," in an impressive manner.

After the services the remains were interred in South Lawn cemetery the coffin being borne by Edward Wimmer, P. C. Royer, James Cronin, Andrew Keefe, Michael Gorman and James McDowell.

BRIDEGROOM IS STILL MISSING

WOOSTER, Aug. 26—The mystery surrounding the disappearance of Ralph W. Eddy, who failed to appear on the night he was to have been married to Miss Lucy Warren of this city, is still unsolved. The young woman remains prostrated over the absence of her fiancé. Investigation shows that Eddy's bank account, amounting to about $1000 in a Chi-cago bank, has not been touched. This fact is thought by some to in-dicate that the young man did not voluntarily go away.

Five Hundred People Went to Cedar Point

About five hundred people from the immediate vicinity of Coshocton went on the Pennsylvania com-pany's excursion to Cedar Point Wednesday morning. The biggest de-legation went from Newcomers-town where one of the trains start-ed soon after 6 o'clock. One hundred and twenty-five tickets were sold there, fourteen got on at 15-cent, eight at West Lafayette and eighty-two at Coshocton. At Trinway nine tickets were sold and at Conesville seven. Many up along the Walhonding val-ley who did not get to go on the Backe Lake excursion two weeks ago took advantage of the Cedar Point trip. Thirty-six tickets were sold at Warsaw, thirty-five at Mohawk and 100 at Walhonding. The sche-dule provided for leaving Sandusky at 7 o'clock.

MINERS RETURN TO THEIR WORK

ZANESVILLE, Aug. 26—After be-ing shut down for two weeks be-cause of the disagreement between the operators and coal miners in the Coshocton district, about 100 men in the Muskingum Coal and Railroad Co. located five miles down the river, started work again Monday morning.

No general strike has been called, the delegates simply reporting the disagreement to their locals. The miners in the Muskingum mines held a meeting Saturday and asked the state officials if they could return to work. The answer that no strike had ever been called was given, and they were told they could return to work at once, if they desired.

The Red Tropic mines never closed the Coshocton mines at Roseville were shut down only three or four days, and the Walnut Hill mines never stopped operations, while the Can-shaw mines are again running. The strike is peculiar, from the fact the miners turned down the agreement reached by the state of-ficials, the district officers, and also the sub-lar-dier representatives. The only contention is regarding the method of removal of bone coal, and none of the pick mines are affected.

Chronic Diarrhoea Cured
"My father has for years been troubled with chronic diarrhoea, and tried every means possible to effect a cure, without avail," writes John H. Zirkle of Philippi, W. Va. "He saw Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy advertised in the Philippi Republican and decided to try it. The result is one bottle cured him and he has not suffered with the disease for eighteen months. Before taking this remedy he was a con-stant sufferer. He is now sound and well, and although sixty years old, can do as much work as a young man." Sold by C. E. Anderson, druggist and bookseller, Coshocton, and by C. M. Ferguson, druggist, Roscoe, O.

CHAUTAUQUA HAS BALANCE IN TREASURY

The Chautauqua association meets at W. S. Merrell's office tomorrow night to go over the finances of the Chautauqua which recently closed. It is believed by the officers that there will be a small balance in the treasury this year. The failure of Gov. Johnston to arrive saved the board a nice sum of money.

JURY DECIDED FOR PLAINTIFF

After being out about 30 minutes, the jury in the case of John Holmes vs. Margaret Lorenz brought in a verdict for the defendant in Squire Straus' court Tuesday afternoon about 3:30. Howard E. Norris was foreman of the jury. The verdict throws the costs upon the plaintiff. The case will probably not be car-ried up. The jury indicated that they thought the plaintiff ought to have something but were unable to award him anything and follow the law.

A Faithful Friend.
"I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy since it was first introduced to the public in 1872, and have never found one instance where a cure was not speed-ily effected by its use. I have been a commercial traveler for eighteen years, and never start out on a trip without this, my faithful friend," says H. S. Nichols of Oakland, Ind. Ter. When a man has used a reme-dy for thirty-five years he knows its value and is competent to speak of it. For sale by C. E. Anderson, druggist and bookseller, Coshocton, and by C. M.
